

Social Media Policy

Board Adopted: 8/17/2021

Board Approved Revision: 4/18/2023

Community Foundation of Greater Muscatine

This policy applies to CFGM personnel, members of its Board of Directors, and to any other persons, such as committee members, who may possess confidential or proprietary information about CFGM. This policy refers to such persons as “CFGM personnel.”

In order to communicate freely and openly with donors, grantees, and members of the public, CFGM itself maintains a social media presence, including through its web site, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and blog. CFGM continually seeks out new and improved methods of communication and will add different forms of social media as it deems appropriate. Accordingly, CFGM has given authority to certain CFGM personnel to maintain its social media presence and may invite others to submit postings. This policy does not cover these activities.

CFGM takes no position on your decision to start or maintain a blog or participate in other social media or social networking (collectively referred to as “Social Media”) activities. However, it is the right and duty of CFGM to protect itself from unauthorized disclosure of confidential and/or proprietary information and from having CFGM personnel indicate that they are speaking on behalf of CFGM when they are not authorized to do so.

Social Media includes, but is not limited to, personal blogs; sites such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, and Twitter; video or wiki postings; chat rooms; personal websites; or other similar forms of online journals, diaries, or personal newsletters not affiliated with CFGM.

Personal Use of Social Media – What is Prohibited?

CFGM respects the right of its personnel to write blogs and use social media and social networking sites. CFGM does not want to discourage its personnel from self-publishing and self-expression, and CFGM takes a neutral position toward personnel who use Social Media in connection with personal interests and affiliations, or for other lawful purposes. However, CFGM personnel are expected to follow the guidelines and policies set forth to make clear that your comments and posts are made by you as an individual, not by you as an employee, agent, or representative of CFGM.

Unless specifically authorized by CFGM’s President, CFGM personnel are not authorized to, and therefore are restricted from, speaking on behalf of CFGM through Social Media.

CFGM personnel must adhere to CFGM’s Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Policy in their use of Social Media. This means they may not discuss any confidential and/or proprietary work-related matters or information through Social Media. Likewise, personnel may not post through Social Media confidential and/or proprietary donor, grantee or CFGM-related documents, or post any information that would violate CFGM’s Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Policy.

You are personally responsible for your commentary and posts through Social Media. You can be held personally liable for commentary that is considered defamatory, threatening, intimidating, harassing, obscene, proprietary or libelous.

As with all personal use of CFGM's information technology (IT) resources, use of CFGM's IT resources to conduct personal Social Media activities should be kept to a minimum and not disrupt work activities. Excessive or inappropriate personal use of CFGM's IT resources for Social Media purposes will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including Termination.

When using Social Media, you must use your personal e-mail address and may not use your CFGM e-mail address as your means of identification and communication.

If you choose to identify yourself as a CFGM employee, Board member, or volunteer through Social Media, please understand that some readers may view you as a spokesperson for CFGM. Because of this possibility, we ask that when using Social Media, you state clearly that you are speaking on behalf of yourself, that your comments, posts, and views are your own, and that you are not authorized to speak on behalf of CFGM.

Monitoring

Personnel are cautioned that you should have no expectation of privacy while using Social Media. Your postings can be reviewed by anyone, including CFGM. CFGM will monitor comments, posts, blogs, forums, and discussions about CFGM, its personnel, its donors, its grantees and community foundations generally that are posted on the Internet or otherwise publicly available.

Reporting Violations

CFGM requests and strongly urges employees to report any violations, or possible or perceived violations, of this policy to supervisors or CFGM's President. Board members and volunteers are encouraged to report violations to the Board Chair or CFGM's President. In particular, CFGM would request that you provide a snapshot and/or printout of the page(s) that you believe contains the violation so that CFGM may examine the entire context of the alleged violation.

Discipline for Violations

In the case of CFGM employees, violation of CFGM's Social Media Policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination, depending on the nature and severity of the violation. CFGM reserves the right to take legal action against personnel who engage in prohibited or unlawful conduct. Violations by members of the Board and other volunteers may lead to dismissal from the Board or committee on which the volunteer serves.
